

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

it was unable to secure any definite results at the short session of Congress.

B. C. STEINER, Chairman.

REPRINT OF REPORT ON NEWSPRINT PAPER

The report of the committee on newsprint paper has been reprinted from the January Bulletin, and any specified number of copies will be sent free from the headquarters office to those who can use them to advantage in the campaign for better newspaper paper.

DISCOUNT TO LIBRARY MEMBERS

By a recent ruling of the A. L. A. Publishing Board all institutional members of the Association will be granted a discount of 10% on all A. L. A. publications on orders amounting to $1.00 or over.

This is an additional reason why all libraries having a reasonable income should be institutional members of the national association. The executive officer of the Association has recently had printed a slip mentioning briefly some of the benefits of A. L. A. institutional membership. Benefits of Membership—

1. Receipt of Bulletin of the American Library Association, six numbers a year, forming a volume of about 400 pages. One number consists of the Proceedings of the annual conference and constitutes the most important contribution of the year to library economy. Even though the librarian may be personally a member the library ought to possess an official file of this important publication.

2. Free subscription to the A. L. A. Booklist (monthly except July and August,) an invaluable guide to the selection and purchase of new books.

3. Name of the library and librarian is entered in the official Handbook of the Association, which is widely used as a mailing list by many enterprises in which libraries are interested and should profit.

4. Every institutional member may send one delegate to all meetings of the Association, who shall be entitled to special travel and hotel rates and all other privileges of an individual member.

5. Privilege of inserting free "For Sale" and "Wants" notices in the Bulletin of the Association.

6. By a recent ruling all institutional members are entitled to a 10% discount on all A. L. A. publications on orders amounting to $1.00 or more.

7. The knowledge that by your library's membership and consequent contribution through the small annual dues you are helping the Association to broaden its work, increase its means of assisting small libraries and communities, forward plans of co-operation between libraries, carry on more extensive committee work, and endeavor to bring libraries and librarians into positions of increased dignity and more adequate support and compensation.

Dues—For institutional membership—five dollars a year.

Is your library an institutional member? If not, why not?

SALE, EXCHANGE, WANTS

(Any library member of the Association may insert, without cost, a ten line notice of books or periodicals wanted, for sale or exchange.)

FOR SALE

Library of McGill University, Montreal.

Bulletin de la Société Française de Minéralogie, known before 1886 as "Bulletin de la Société Minéralogique de France," Tomes 1 to 31 (1878-1908) and 33-34 (1909-1910) inclusive, "avec les trois tables." The set is in beautiful order and nicely bound in brown cloth. Price on application.

University of Vermont Library, Burlington, Vt.

Annalen der Chemie, vols. 1-264, with Registers and Supplements.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE

Milton, Mass., Public Library.

Memoir of Robert Troup Paine. By his parents. N. Y. Trow. 1852.

Sotheby, S. L. Ramblings in the eluci-